How to contribute

You can contribute to the translation efforts!

The community conducts the translation work for the React docs on each language-specific fork of react.dev. Typical translation work involves directly translating a Markdown file and creating a pull request. Click the “contribute” link above to the GitHub repository for your language, and follow the instructions there to help with the translation effort.

If you want to start a new translation for your language, visit: translations.react.dev
